St. Patricks Church History

The St. Patricks Church that still stands on 50th street and carries active services also contributes to the history of Clyde. "It was about 1915 and the parish decided to build a chruch and was completed by 1918," stated in "Clyde - A Place to Call Home."

The article goes on to describe throughout the many years "the ladies of St. Patricks Church catered to many events, most noteably the annual fall chicken suppers and Bazaar each March 17." While the church was first established in 1910, there was a strong sense of community building that still exists today.
