RECYCLE!

When we talk about recycling household and work place things, we tend to ignore or are less aware of how to deal with the electrical and electronic waste (sometimes called e-waste). E-waste is valuable as a source of secondary raw material but also toxic if disposed of improperly. Due to rapid technology change, obsolete items have created a fast growing mass of electronic waste around the globe.

In order to reduce this, working TV's, monitors, computers, cell phones, batteries and other consumer electronics can be sold or donated, thereby prolonging their useful life.

Repurposing electronic equipment involves dismantling of parts into metals, plastics and so on and individually processing them depending on the available technology.

The History of Clyde Fire Department dates back almost 80 years to 1921 when a fire brigade consisting of 18 volunteers was organized. In 1924 the Village purchased the first fire truck, a 60 gallon chemical fire engine with 100 feet of hose for $650.00.

This truck was actually a hand pulled cart with a water/chemical combination inside barrel of water.

In 1951 the Village purchased a non-freeze chemical fire engine from the Saskatoon fire Engine Company for $1083.

In 1958 the Village purchased a 1951 Dodge one ton truck and combined it with their previous equipment to give Clyde its first real complete fire truck.
